

Dr. P. J. GEORGE

- An Educationalist

Dr. P. J. George, Programme Director and Executive Secretary, ISTE, New Delhi - 110 016.

He graduated in Mechanical Engineering from College of Engineering, Thiruvananthapuram in 1953;

M. S. Degree from USA under TCM programme in 1960 and Ph.D. Degree from USA with UNESCO Fellowship in 1970.

He joined the same College (College of Engineering, Thiruvananthapuram) as Lecturer in 1957. Became Principal, Government Engineering College, Thrissur in 1975, and latter on worked as Principal, College of Engineering, Thiruvananthapuram in 1980.

In 1982, he became Director of Technical Education, Government of Kerala;

He was also appointed as Commissioner for Entrance Examinations and Chairman, Board of Vocational Education in 1986.

Prof. George joined as Programme Director and Executive Secretary, ISTE in 1988 and he holds the same post today. During the last seven years, since he took over as the Executive Secretary of ISTA, he worked hard for strengthening the ISTE, reaching almost all Colleges and Polytechnics in the country, all TTTI and IITS involving Directors of Technicals Education of each and every state, all administrators, Policy makers and even those who were deeply involved as Managers in the field of Engineering. He has been the moving spirit of the ISTE.

Today ISTE has more than 30,000 Members, Life Members. ISTE graduates nearly 175 Summer /Winter /Short term Courses. The Annual Sessions of ISTE are the most popular events for all the practitioners in the Field of Engineering education and are attended by large number of participants and their number grows year by year.

All this phenomenal growths of ISTE is due to hard work, devotion resourcefulness and dedication of Prof. George. Today ISTE is not only well established at the national level, but has made its impact on the international level as well.

Published over 30 technical papers in national and international journals.

★